Ms. Nageotte,

This is my one and only child, whom I love dearly, that you actively have taken a role in separating from under authority of law. Your client, my wife, has confirmed no physical violence. The texts I sent were clearly non-threatening, even as confirmed by two different Commonwealth prosecutors. Suzannah was a professional swimmer and her primary complaint is water in her face. I am father.

How do you legally justify a two-year protective order and removal of custodial rights based on these assertions? How is a psychological evaluation even remotely related to these facts?

If I get my lawyer to contact you will you then listen to reason? Will you negotiate with my lawyer?

I have offered reconciliation to my wife. Does she accept? Will you answer this question if it comes from my lawyer?

You are just plainly a garbage human being and deserve every bad thing possible to happen to you.

How many idiot lawyers does it take to follow the law? Either drop the protective order and the custody case, or start communicating for your client. You obviously expect one of us to pay for your moron legal advice that just happened to be entirely against the law.

I demand that the State and these corrupt lawyers stop interfering with a normal, healthy family. I am my child's biological father and have no long term mental illness that prevents me from taking proper care of my child. In fact, I meet absolutely none of the factors that would lead to the removal of rights as a parent. Suzannah, my wife, is capable of caring for our child. She does not meet any of the criteria. You are all disgusting beyond all belief, but especially Yvonne J. Nageotte. Please remove my family's case from your legal system.

Counsel,

Have you ever received this many emails in one particular case? In practice, during working hours, I send opposing counsel very few emails, maybe once or twice a month even in the biggest of cases.

What Nageotte started and continues to do is wrong. I cannot emphasize that enough. Even if my wife and I had one argument that led to her hiring Nageotte, Yvonne surely went too far. As stated, I explained to her office the circumstances and that I was open to mediation or counseling. I am a wonderful father. Just put yourself in my shoes here. I initially blamed my wife, until I learned of all of Nageotte's wrongdoing. Nageotte herself put everything on my wife, her own client, but it is clear that Yvonne is simply looking out for Yvonne.

I will not sit idly by letting the State of Virginia take my own flesh and blood from me; I will always be my daughter's father. There are three of you. You are a lawyer's legal counsel right now. If you talk some sense to her and get her to back off of my family, I will dismiss the suit. She must voluntarily withdraw the frivolous custody case. If my wife still desires a protective order, which I don't think she does personally, then we must work out some way to communicate concerning our child.

It appears to me that City of Fredericksburg is a "private" city and operates outside the laws of the rest of the country. The JDR court, however, uses a .gov website. Yvonne claims to be a private practitioner. So either City has absolutely no jurisdiction over me or my family, or it is a public lawyer prosecuting on behalf of the State to remove parental rights for private gain. I was in Fredericksburg six months tops, training at Quantico with the United State Marine Corps to potentially die for our freedoms and the Constitution. For your families, your children. Who the fuck does Yvonne think she is taking away rights that women and men die for? My father and his father and his father fought for your right to become a high priced lawyer to help corrupt clients fabricate their own laws and lie in federal court pleadings. You should rethink your life choices.

I have no interest in litigating the federal case, but I will if necessary. Unlike Nageotte, I am not a greedy person. Talk to Nageotte. I, as has been the case all along, am an easygoing, forgiving person. I will never accept losing my child at the hands of the State.

19 Dear Attorney General of Virginia,

20 I am writing this as official notice of a claim against the Commonwealth of 21 Virginia before joining the Commonwealth of Virginia in the above-captioned case filed
22 in the Federal District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia involving one of 23 Virginia's municipalities and one of its own practicing lawyers. For your review, I have 24 included Plaintiffs' Amended Complaint.

25 My demands for settlement from the State of Virginia, in order to avoid becoming a co-Defendant in this matter, are as follows:

- (1) Assistance in criminally prosecuting Yvonne J. Nageotte;
- (2) Restoring Plaintiff Simpson's (father's) legal rights to his own child;
- (3) Removing the unlawful "custody and visitation" court case between a legally married couple, filed by licensed Virginia attorney Yvonne J. Nageotte;
- (4) $50,000 in lost wages, salary, interest, investment income, unnecessary expenses directly related to this ordeal, and $1,000,000.00 in pain and suffering for significant loss of the parent-child relationship, illegal incarceration, lawyer incompetencies, embarrassment, damage to reputation, and violating Plaintiffs' United States Constitutional rights, including Eighth Amendment violations.

For purposes of this claim, upon Plaintiff's information and belief, Yvonne J. Nageotte's intrusion into Plaintiff's family began in the second week of May, 2022, and thus this claim is within the statute of limitations for legally cognizable tort claims against the Commonwealth of Virginia. This Notice of Claim is filed in accordance with Code of Virginia §8.01-195.6.

Dated this 20th day of March, 2023.

All of you are female lawyers and cannot seem to grasp that our legal system has no business in deeply personal medical issues; if you want the government and legal system to behave morally superior to you and tell you what to do with your bodies and collect your vitals against your will, and strip away your parental rights unlawfully, then you have more problems than I imagined over there in Virginia. This is not Iran or North Korea, but it's feeling that way. Does Loving v. Virginia ring a bell?

Subject: Evaluation

Yvonne,

You ignorant wretch. Keeping a child from a father unless he undergo a full psychological evaluation for texting his wife is an illegal act. Cease and desist you piece of slime! Is there a time limit on getting an evaluation? Are you going to keep my child from me for the next 16 years if I don't undergo one by then? Are you going to have the court hold me in contempt and jail me again if I don't get one? You all need to apologize to my family and start doing the right thing here. If you are obsessed with me getting an evaluation from one of your crooked cronies, then you pay for it.

The one year deadline for a divorce in Virginia is approaching I assume in May. I have called your office a handful of times to schedule a conference to discuss finalizing everything, but you refuse to speak or return the calls. You do not respond to emails. Shall I try courier pigeon? If we are to divorce, there are obvious matters we should attend to, not the least of which involve a human child for which you have absolutely no say in the matter. I demand that someone respond to my outstanding request for making arrangements to spending time with my child. I seriously cannot believe that I even have to ask this at all. This has become a clear case of lawyers abusing their powerful legal authority to get what they want at all costs, no matter who they hurt, with total disregard for the actual law and for human decency, and using a two year old child as collateral until their crooked goals are met. How are earth are any lawyers involved here on a higher ground? There truly must be a special place in hell for Virginia lawyers.

Do you suppose that I should give that to a retained psychiatrist for no one's benefit, or use that money on my daughter or for flights, stays, car rentals, basic living expenses? I simply do not have those resources. I have spent everything on this and I have nothing to show other than a broken family. Even my trips had to pull back because I need more time to save. Please tell me that you as lawyers see this as illegal overall. I really don't even care what the law says at this point, as you all clearly don't, I am simply basing this on moral wrongness. Yvonne has engaged in conduct involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit or misrepresentation. RPC 8.4.

Let's assume these based on my side of events, or even as you assert:

- (1) Suzannah my wife enters a three-day protective order on May 8, 2022;
- (2) Yvonne Nageotte offers to prosecutors print outs of texts sent from me to my wife during the 3-day period;
- (3) While in Washington State, on or about May 11, I receive a phone call from Virginia police and an alert from my employer that a one-year renewal is sought;
- (4) On or about May 17, 2022, I learn from the Court of Yvonne Nageotte;

Merely based on those circumstances, and the difficulty of hiring a family lawyer on such short notice, it is impossible to dispute that Nageotte was involved from the start. Thus, she presented lies to her lawyers. President Clinton faced disbarment and a $90,000 fine for lying. If the criminal matter is obviously a hoax and means to "legally" separate a married couple, then a lawyer cannot demand a full psychological evaluation in a civil matter before reinstating parental rights. She simply does not have that authority, and I have been forced to send excessive messages, include unnecessary parties, and file a federal lawsuit, contact the Justice Department, and the Washington Post just to get attention to this insanity. What more will it take?

"All he has to do is undergo a full psychological evaluation and then he can start seeing his own child again."

Is this Yvonne's stance? Can you not comprehend why I have sued her in federal court?

- 1) I contacted Samuel Samenow (a PhD, not an MD) and he wanted a $5,000 deposit for which he bills hourly out of, more money if incomplete by the time the retainer is exhausted, and was booked up for months on end.
- 2) It is obviously unclear the relation between a full psychological evaluation and sending a text message to my wife.
- 3) This is a civil matter.
- 4) Medical records are private under federal HIPPA laws.
- 5) It is illegal extortion, possibly racketeering, fee sharing with non-lawyers, and kickback potential to lawyers.
- 6) The State cannot remove a parent's rights based on a parent's inability to pay money. That's illegal as well.
- 7) the State cannot remove a parent's rights absent extraordinary circumstances and none of those are relevant in my case.
- 8) I, in good faith, sought out at least four mental health evaluations, precisely what the Court Order states, and opposing counsel wanted ONE specific provider.
- 9) The law provides absolutely NO guidance in terms of what "mental disorders" might result in a loss of parental rights.
- 10) Even if a "mental disorder" appeared, what relevance is there and what corrective actions could an otherwise healthy parent take if there is no "cure" for a genetic disorder before reunification with child?!!!!

You all need to be out of our lives yesterday.

"Attorneys,"

So what's it going to be, put up with my persistent emails forever, litigate and waste tens of thousands of dollars, and wonder what my next move will be, or simply come to the conclusion that I am an outstanding father and that Yvonne butted into a newlywed's marriage for prospective personal financial gain. I was my family's caretaker and will continue to remain so. What I find very disturbing is Yvonne's pre-planned goal in seeking a protective order as part of her strategy. She's a lying piece of shit, but I will go away from all of your lives if and when we reach some resolution with my family matter. That's a promise. I'm still offering to my wife to move in together so that we may raise our child together. It will remain on the table. If she wants nothing to do with me, we still have to figure out fair and equitable treatment and most importantly a better visitation schedule and arrangement. As strange as the concept may seem to you, try to look at this objectively.

My own mind is my own. This is my family, my child, my lawfully wedded wife. Keeping us separated for financial gain is disgusting, dishonest, sinful. You idiotic lawyers are violating federal HIPPA laws by forcing healthy individuals to undergo full psychological evaluations by your own retained experts for monetary gain and your own perverse interest. This is supposed to be a court of law, not a court of do whatever the fuck you feel like doing. I assume that people of wealth come to you, given the exorbitant prices you charge, and yet you have a retained psychological expert ready to go. There are people out there busting their asses off for their paychecks while you grow fat from their misfortunes and abuse your authority by fabricating requirements to spend time with and heal their own families.

I have undergone several mental health assessments and every single one of these doctors says I'm sane and fine. How many people require full psychological examinations? Less than 5% across the board. You literally have one retained. Stop this practice you crooked idiots. This is my family, that you have all taken an active role in destroying for your own financial gain. A psychological evaluation for sending my wife a text message?! Fuck each and every one of you and I hope you burn in hell.

Yvonne,

Sarah at the visitation facility has informed me that my visitations have been suspended. I was never notified of any court hearing or order in place. This must be your doing.

Obviously, I have done absolutely nothing to deserve the entirety of my parental rights being removed, but now even visitations are gone. What the literal fuck is your problem?

My daughter's birthday is June 25. That's a Sunday. I want to schedule a visit for that weekend to spend time with her and give her a gift. I will buy a cake and birthday decorations if Suzannah wants to join. As simultaneously a self-represented party AND a licensed lawyer in another jurisdiction, I ask that you do your job and assist in coordinating between my wife and myself as there is a frivolous protective order in place by your doing. How do I communicate with my wife regarding our child?

Further, as I am an unwilling participant in this absurd charade, what date are you calculating the one year mark separation that you ensured illegally?

There isn't a court on this planet that can tell me that I'm not my child's father and cannot visit my own child, absent DNA results.

I fully comprehend divorce, but I fully understand fatherhood, too. It is in my wife's best legal and best financial interest to remain married. It is in my child's best interest to live with her mom and dad under the same roof. Again, marriage counseling or mediation or family therapy are all better alternatives to this maliciousness put in place by Yvonne. Her sole interest is in direct conflict with our marital community. Those options are also more beneficial for all of you as you won't be wondering when that Simpson promise catches up with you.

There is no need for violence in this matter, but I will kill for my family. If you are the individuals responsible for separating families for financial gain, then I have already lost all respect for you as a human being. In a position of authority, you have certain duties. Subject: My child

Thus far I have filed a federal complaint against Nageotte, have contacted the Washington Post, have notified the Virginia Bar, the Virginia Supreme Court, the Judiciary misconduct board, have made statements that I truly do not wish to make to other humans and attorneys, have cited United States Supreme Court decisions, federal statutes, Virginia statutes, and even bible verses.

What capable individual, father, lawyer, professor, and author that can do all of those things to point out the repulsiveness of Nageotte and still Nageotte refuses to waive a full psychological evaluation that she fabricated before I can see my own flesh and blood? Does your drinking water there in Virginia have some kind of chemical that makes you this ignorant? You are licensed lawyers demanding that a pro se litigant and practicing lawyer dismiss his own complaint in federal court seeking justice. You are the stewards of the law.

Yvonne Nageotte has mental problems. She, a practicing lawyer, lied to my wife in a legal representative capacity. She blamed all of her actions on my wife, creating a rift between us. Yvonne interfered with a newlywed marriage with a child so that she could attempt to steal money from me and my family. She, a licensed lawyer, incarcerated an individual for sending a text message. She committed perjury to her own lawyer. I assumed that my wife wanted a divorce when this all began, due to Yvonne's frivolous filing of a custody case between a legally married couple, just to ensure divorce for her profit. How is that beneficial to her client?

If you all possess some kind of moral high ground that you want to hold over others, then you tell me who is in the right and who is in the wrong? Yvonne would not take a bullet for my daughter. She doesn't care that my wife will be a single mother raising a child alone. She doesn't even give credence to another, neutral licensed lawyer Elizabeth Carpenter-Hughes, who recommended more time between father and daughter. No, instead Nageotte continues to take a family matter extremely personal and cry over me giving her a stern reprimand for her wrongdoing via email, an invisible movement of electrodes. She is insane. She clearly does not have her client's best interests in mind. I have 100% of my family's interest in mind. She's a dim witted bully who finally picked the wrong fight.

What more do you want here?

Not only did I go to her office to Nageotte's office to let her know that this involved a personal matter, she goes ahead and forces my hand to share intimate details of my family and marriage. You, lawyers, are the ones filing emails in court. You are manipulative, invasive, intrusive, morally bankrupt, and detestable. What a cunt. She didn't give two shits about her own client's interest, and she still doesn't. Disbar this imbecile.

This is an actual family that you are screwing over under color of law for monetary gain. The most important thing on God's green earth and you are destroying it for your own selfish egos and pride and vindictiveness. Nageotte is private, but the Court is public. I'm tired of being singled out, mistreated, harassed, and bothered for speaking out on a public forum defending each and every one of your Constitutional Rights, the same rights that were fought for in your own backyard, by our American ancestors. They bled and died for you to be a cunt and write whatever the fuck you want to write, or say just about anything possible. You have absolutely no right interfering with my family. You certainly don't have a right to imprison people without due process, without bail, for sending letters and words on a screen. Subject: Confusing the issues

With regard to your current frivolous motion to dismiss, and reply briefs, your arguments are wholly unrelated to the Complaint itself. My complaint is a violation of civil rights, as even the court recognizes. Depriving a parent of his legal rights is also a violation of civil rights, which also justifies the claim of interference with the parent child relationship.

The only way I would even consider dismissing any complaint against Nageotte is if she herself was being directed by government officials. There were two complete strangers in the courtroom when we entered into an illegal and unlawful order, and both looked military.

This is the investigative process and a cornerstone of our judicial legal system. You do realize how easy it is to create email accounts, don't you? How do you know this is even the plaintiff writing these? Spam emails? I can write anything I want to, it's a free country. We all have a duty to disobey illegal orders.
